MILWAUKEE:
Friday Morning, April 11, 1856.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

It will be seen that the members of the Congressional Committee to visit Kansas have arrived at St. Louis on their way to the scene of their labors.

The Republicans of Washington Co. are up and doing. Their resolutions which we publish are to the point.

Our European correspondent has another of his capital letters from Athens.

It would seem that Gen'l Harney's rough treatment of the Indians on the Plains has at last brought the matter to a crisis.

There was a fire by telegraph yesterday morning, at 2 P. M.

THE K. N. STATE CONVENTION.—The American of yesterday publishes the second and last days' proceedings of the Know-Nothing State Council. They do not appear to have been particularly reported or important. Mr. WM. J. DAWES, chairman of the Business Committee, submitted a report the gist of which seems to be that the K. N. treasury is low and needs replenishing; that the action of the Wisconsin delegates to the Philadelphia K. N. Convention should be approved; and that the New-York Convention of June 12th, and the New-York Convention of June 14th, ought to select candidates "who would not be obnoxious to the Republican party, but upon whom they could all unite."

The Convention in Committee of the whole, then proceeded to business and after a brief discussion, and unanimously adopted four resolutions, to wit:

1st. Endorsing the action of the Wisconsin delegates to the K. N. National Convention.

2d. Repudiating the nominees of that Convention, Fillmore and Donelson, "as having been made only with a view to strengthen the hands of Slave propagandists."

3d. Reposing the Wisconsin K. N. Delegates to the New-York Convention of June 14th, to nominate candidates, "who are thoroughly opposed to the extension of Slavery over territory which has been declared forever free."

4th. Recommending NATHANIEL P. BANKS as a suitable candidate for the Presidency

Several addresses followed says the American, in which the policy of fusing with the Republicans was loudly condemned," and then the council proceeded to elect Delegates to the New York K. N. National Convention, as follows:

Messrs. John Lockwood and D. E. Wood, from the State at large. E. Hurlburt from the 1st Congressional District, Keyes from the 2nd District, and Dunn, Ambler from the 3rd. District.—Alternates were elected as follows: M. M. Ogden and R. Chandler, from the State at large; D. A. Olin from 1st Congressional District, E. Bullock from the 2d, and W. J. Dawes from the 3d do.

A State Central Committee was also appointed consisting of Messrs. Doggett, A. K. Williams, T. Worthington and D. A. Gillies, of Milwaukee; Cook, of Madison, Z. Reund, Nevada, Clough, Washington, and two others, whose names I have omitted to take—And then the Council "stringing their lanterns on ropes" went home to bed, and dispersed to their several homes.

SHIPMENTS ON LAKE MICHIGAN.—We learn by private advices from reliable sources, that there is but little if any more than 500,000 bushels of wheat at this time in the ports of Lake Michigan for shipment to the East. It is also reported that there is but little in farmers' hands to come on and, and that the wheat now on the ground in the States of Illinois and Wisconsin looks like a total promise, it having been entirely winter killed.—Chicago Times, April 7.

Private advices are not always the most reliable. The amount of wheat in store at the different ports on Lake Michigan is, at the present time, within a fraction of 550,000 bushels, and by the first of May will be increased to 600,000. Opinions differ as to the amount yet left in farmers' hands." Along the lines of the railroads, and within a circuit of 25 miles, on and around Janesville, Madison and Watertown, the country is pretty well drained of its wheat. But in the other quarters of this State, there are still considerable quantities in first hands—not a great deal more, however, than the consumption will demand for seed wheat will require. As to the prospect of the winter wheat, so far as we have yet heard, it looks fairly in this State, and with timely rains and an average season will yield a good crop.

A CURIOUS AFFAIR.—Curiosity led a great many people, curious to know what the "Trial of the Pickle" could mean, to crowd the Hall of the Female College on Wednesday evening, to see what the "Curious Society" would be at.

A very pleasant entertainment was afforded by the pupils, aided in the intervals by music on the piano, and singing by Mrs. CUTLER. The plot of the "Trial" was very simple. A Chief Justice and Associate Justice sit at the bench to try a heavy set of fairies, elves, and nymphs, who are represented with considerable spite by a couple of the pupils. The Court is provided with Clerks, Sheriff, and Crier, and witnesses are at hand. The prisoners are arraigned and tried for turning the heads of the young people with romance and sentiment. After trial the Judges took the case under advisement during a recess, the audience in the while being provided with refreshments by the pupils. At the re-opening of the Court, the Chief Justice, Miss FLANDERS, sentenced the prisoners to quit their mischief with the young folks, under pains and penalties of 2 years hard labor at the hearts of all lovers and curmudgeons.

The pupils played their parts admirably, and all of the persons and beings they were called, for little ones, with their fluttering wings and wands and dresses, were the especial pets of the audience. The affair was got up for the benefit of the Library Fund, which we trust was liberally patronized.

WAUKESHA CO. SURVEYORS.—A friend at Waukesha writes us that Mr. ALBERT ALDEN Chairman of the Board in that town, who was classed as an "anti-Barstow Democrat", in the list of Supervisors elect furnished us by our Waukesha correspondent, ran and was elected as a Republican. The same is also true of Mr. McMunigal, the Chairman of the town of Menomonee. This would make the total, 10 Republicans, 4 anti-Barstow Democrats, and 2 Barstow do.

☞ The London Times in speaking of the misunderstanding supposed to exist between England and this country, and the possible contingency of a rupture between them says: "As for honor and glory in that part of the world, we only wish to keep what we have, as we are well aware we may have with many mishaps in a war with a people whose only difference from ourselves is that they have no court, aristocracy, half-pay list or horse guard."

NEW HOPE AT SHEBOYGAN.—The people of Sheboygan are making preparations for a large increase of population and business this year.—Mr. A. A. Gary, of that city, exhibited to us a few days ago the plans of a new Hotel, of brick, 4 stories in height, and 100 feet in length, to be built this year. Mr. Gary is one of the substantial citizens of Sheboygan has so many, and who have done much for its growth and prosperity.

The authoress of Uncle Tom's Cabin is soon to publish a work illustrating the degradation of the poor white population at the South. She proposes to make it appear that Uncle Tom's misfortunes are but part of the result of slavery, his white brethren keeping him company in the same.

Ancient Gates and Arches of Triumph—The Character of the Modern Greek—King Otho and his Queen—Costumes of Ladies and Gentlemen and their Personal Appearance—Condition of Society—Political Relations of Greece and their Consequences—Robbers and Murderers—Playing Artillery—The Greek Church and its forms of Worship.

ATHENS, Dec. 15, 1855.

There is no city, not even Rome itself, that recalls with so much pain the memory of her past greatness, as Athens. In groping along the darkened corridors of her temples, in standing amidst the marble columns of the Acropolis, or by the fallen statues dedicated to the Gods, one is forcibly reminded of the words of Ossian: "Why dost thou build the hall, son of the winged days? Thou lookest from thy towers to-day; yet a few years, and the blast of the desert comes, it howls in thy empty courts."

There are many ruins scattered along through the Southern portion of the modern city, which, if space permitted, I would like to mention. Among them are several fine gates and arches of triumph. These are of Pentellic marble, and still retain their beautiful and perfect proportions. Many of them have inscriptions upon them, disclosing their names and the time they were built.

Near one of them is a column covered over with Greek words and figures, resembling the bill of fares on a modern tollgate. This is one of the gates leading to the country, and the tablet contains the prices or tariff, which was levied on all provisions and other articles of property coming into the city. This custom exists to the present day in most of the continental cities

In strolling over the city, I found that on one street there were twenty or thirty small shops of various kinds, built up in front of one of the old ruined temples, using it as one of the walls—while in another instance I saw in a small goat pen a tier, made from a marble cornice of some one of the old buildings. The work was of the most elaborate and exquisite finish, and might have received its last touch from the hands of a Phidias or Praxiteles!

The Greeks of the present day are very little, if any, ahead of the modern Romans. No doubt many of the same causes conspire to keep them down in a state of helpless inactivity and impotency—the ignorance of the people, and a powerless, corrupt and inefficient government. The world, and particularly our own people felt a strong sympathy for the Greeks in their struggle with the Turks for their freedom; but it may well be doubted, whether the masses of the people, or the State at large, have received any benefit from the change. I was very much disappointed in the character of the Greeks themselves. If there is any of that heroism and love of liberty left, that once characterized their ancestors, it is beyond discovery. In an intellectual point of view, they are not superior, if equal to the Indians. Although less degraded, they are more supercilious and vain, and having much more enterprise and tact, they are yet more dishonest and treacherous. It is true there are many of them who exhibit considerable enterprise, and engage in commerce both at home and abroad; and it is also a matter of fact that the Greeks, Ionians, and many other of the islanders in the Levant, make the best of sailors, yet I speak of the Greeks as a whole, and believe, to my regret, that the sympathy of the people of the new world would have been less strong, had their true character been fully known.

After the battle of Navarino, which decided the contest between the Greeks and their ancient enemies the Turks, the former were taken under a sort of protectorate of England, Austria and Russia. These powers, instead of giving them a king from among their own people, made a selection of one from a foreign country, and called to the throne Otho, one of the sons of the deceased King Lewis of Bavaria. The character of this monarch is, in keeping with his people, loose, dissolute and inactive. He is wanting in every trait of character the requisites that dignify and strengthen the possessor of a throne.

The King is a man of some 45 years of age, is small in stature, with a very unintellectual, as well as unprepossessing appearance. His features are round, with a nose so flat that its top rises no higher than his moustaches. Dressing as he does, in the National costume, his whole appearance indicates more the buffoon in low comedy, than it does that of a king. I saw him reviewing a military parade on the Sabbath, and the same evening, I understood, he was seen at the opera.

The Queen I saw once only, she was then driving a span of horses under good speed in an open carriage. There were in this carriage two female friends sitting in the next seat behind, while by her side sat a little boy. In a separate box seat far in the rear made for a single footman, which is found in most all of the English carriages, sat a donkey of some kind with folded arms in full uniform. As she passed me she hit her ponies first, then cracked her whip over her head and away went royalty in true jockey style. To use one of the phrases of that craft, I thought she handled the ribbons well. The Queen is a daughter of one of the Northern German Kings. I believe, but of whom I do not now recollect, and is a Lutheran. The King is a Catholic. There are two chapels attached to the Palace, she using one for worship and he the other. As they have no family, I believe it is already decided that he is to be succeeded by a younger brother. The Palace is filled with news-mongers, maids and retainers, who keep the King, Queen and other functions of government in a continual ferment with each other. This brings scandal upon the Court as well as affords gossip for the world

The Greeks in person are of full height, good form, dark complexion, black eyes, oval face, arched eyebrows, long black hair and wiry, features regular and animated. Their dress is very peculiar; those of the men consist of a skimmer dress hanging in heavy folds and reaching just below the knee. This is generally of white cotton cloth, and contains from fifty to sixty yards. I am told that many have them containing eighty yards. Under this, extending above the knee are wrought silk pantalettes or stockings, which are confined by handsome silk bands tied around the leg in a double knot. These stockings are so made that they lace down over a well fitted buskin. The shirt is generally of fine wrought silk, and from its profusion of ornamental needlework I should judge was an expensive article. Frequently the wristbands are terminated by ruffles. Over this is another garment fitting snugly, made similar to a lady's habit or spencer with long sleeves. This is a very expensive garment, being also embellished with wrought needlework, and is generally of silk worsted or some other stuff of fine tissue. Around the waist is generally worn a sash of silk tied in front. Over all in the morning and evening hangs gracefully from one shoulder after the Spanish style, a short cloak or cape. This garment is also very unique in its make, and corresponds well with the other portions of the dress. In place of a hat is the well known Grecian cap, differing only from the Turkish fez, which I have before described, in being longer. Instead of having the shape of an ordinary smoking cap, fitting closely to the head, it falls over on one side, its tassel reaching down nearly to the shoulder. This costume looks very well when first seen, but after one becomes acquainted with the character of the people and finds that they are idle, vain, pretending and ignorant, he becomes disgusted with it and looks upon it as more fitted for a race of Amazons The spectacle was always novel to me, however, to stand at the foot of Eolus Street, which is the Broadway of Athens, and look up for a half mile and notice the moving masses of bright red and white figures mingling together. Nor could I disabuse myself of the idea during the whole time of my sojourn here that all these people were play actors and had just left rehearsal at the theatres. In the evening the scene takes another form, and as white is the only predominant color, one supposes that the whole streets are filled with ladies.

The dress of the ladies, as well as their persons, I will not attempt to describe, as I saw but few of them. No one can portray, as well as woman herself, these matters. The following is a picture, which, although, somewhat old and perhaps a little overdrawn, will give the reader some idea upon this subject. It is taken from a description of three sisters; speaking of them the author says: "Their apartment is immediately opposite to ours, and, if you could see them as we do now, through the gently waving aromatic plants before our window, you would leave your heart in Athens. Theresa, Carinca, and Mariana are of middle stature. On the crown of the head of each is a red Albanian skull-cap, with a blue tassel spread out and fastened down like a star. Near the edge or bottom of the skull-cap is a handkerchief of various colors bound round their temples. The youngest wears her hair loose, falling on her shoulders; the hair behind descending down the back nearly to the waist, and as usual, mixed with silk. The two eldest generally have their hair bound and fastened under the handkerchief. Their upper robe is a pelisse edged with fur, hanging loose down to the ankles; below is a handkerchief of muslin covering the bosom, and terminating at the waist, which is short: under that, a gown of striped silk or muslin, with a gore round the swell of the loins, falling in front in graceful negligence; white stockings and yellow slippers complete their attire. The two eldest have black, or dark hair and eyes; their visage oval and complexion somewhat pale with tevin of dazzling whiteness. Their cheeks are rounded and nose straight, rather inclined to aquiline. The youngest, Mariana, is very fair, her face not so finely rounded, but has a gayer expression than her sisters, whose countenances except when the conversation has something of mirth in it, may be said to be rather pensive. Their persons are elegant and their manners pleasing and lady like, such as would be fascinating in any country. They possess very considerable powers of conversation, and their minds seem to be more instructed than those of the Greek women in general. With such attractions it would be indeed remarkable if they did not meet with great attention from the travellers who occasionally are resident in Athens. They sit in the Eastern style, a little reclined, with their limbs gathered under them on the divan, and will not shoes. Their employments are the needle, rumbourine, and reading."

[Concluded to-morrow.]

The Struggle for Kansas.

Those who affect to think that Kansas can be saved from the contaminating influence of slavery, without contest and active efforts, will do well to read the following letter, published in a late number of the St. Louis Republican, and written by a Southerner, on the steamer J. H. Lucas, bound for Kansas:

There are a party of Southerners on the Lucas, some of whom have negroes, and all "sound on the goose," going to Kansas. I have got acquainted with five gentlemen from Newnan, Georgia, who are an exploring committee from their section of the State. They tell me if they report favorably, which they doubtless will do, several thousand good citizens will come on their recommendation, so as to be in the Territory in time to vote at the October election.

Let Kansas become a free State, and then farewell to Southern rights, peace and the Union.—The South cannot do without Kansas; it must be a Slave State, and let the other Southern States help Missouri to make it so. If, however, this trip of the James H. Lucas is a type of the emigration to Kansas, it is all a one-sided business—in favor of the South and slavery.

H. C. P.

WESTWARD HO!—All New England appears just now to be worshipping the setting sun. From every part, more or less of the population are looking to the West with a worshipful eye. The tide of emigration is flowing in that direction, not to Kansas merely, but to all parts of the great Northwest. From Worcester we learn that a large number of mechanics and business men are preparing to seek their fortunes at the West. The New Hampshire Patriot recently stated that persons in all sections of the State were preparing to start for the West, while many have already gone this month. The State of Maine says that the same remark holds good in that State, and the tide of emigration to the West is stronger now than it has ever been since the California fever, some eight years since. This large infusion of the New England people into the Western States, cannot fail to exert a healthful influence in shaping the destiny of one of the most important sections of the country.—Buffalo Express.

A FORGOTTEN TREATY.—In the universal congratulations sent to Louis Napoleon, all of the European powers seem to have forgotten entirely the existence of the treaty of March, 1852, signed at Warsaw, by which Austria, Russia and Prussia pledged themselves and not to recognize a Napoleon dynasty, and in case of a revolution in France, or of the Emperor's (then President) death, to use all the means in their power to restore a Bourbon to the throne.

JUDICIAL ELECTION—NORTH WESTERN CIRCUIT.—Prairie du Chien [Crawford County] gives WIRAM KNOWLTON 159 votes, GEORGE GALE 26 do. Eastman, same county, gives Knowlton a majority. In Bad Ax County, Knowlton is reported to be considerably ahead.

HUDSON RIVER OPEN.—The ice left the Hudson on Saturday or Sunday last, and navigation between New York and Albany is now unobstructed.

MINERAL POINT ELECTION.—The Tribune says that this election resulted in the entire defeat of the Barstowites and the election of the People's ticket by handsome majorities.

TOWN OF MOUNT PLEASANT.—The town of Mt. Pleasant, Racine County, on Tuesday last, elected the entire Republican Ticket for Town Officers by from 90 to 100 majority.

THE UPPER MISSISSIPPI OPENING.—The Galena Advertiser of Tuesday last says:

Rev. Arthur Bronson writes us from Prairie du Chien, last Friday, that the River was open from the lower landing in that town below, and that the ferry boat had that day crossed over from McGregor. The ice is still held on at the upper landing, but the river was reported open several miles above.

MASSACHUSETTS AND NEW YORK.—The eminent Senator from New York has been preparing for some time for a great effort. Yesterday, he spoke in the Senate. The telegraph gives quite a full synopsis of his speech. It is marked by more fire than Seward usually puts in his Senatorial efforts—his defence of the free States is both direct and just. His peroration on the greatness and noble history of Massachusetts and New York, is Websterian in its eloquence.—Wisconsin of yesterday.

VOTE OF JANESVILLE.—The City of Janesville polled 1092 votes for Mayor at the late election. —Milwaukee Sentinel.

The Sentinel we believe is right with regard to the vote for MAYOR, but the whole number of votes cast at our late city election was eleven hundred and sixty one.—Janesville Standard.

DROWNED.—We learn that Mr. Francis Hebb, formerly a resident of Jefferson county, N. Y., was drowned on Friday last, while at work on the bridge at Milford. It appears he was taken in a fit, to which he was subject, which caused him to fall. His body was recovered in about fifteen minutes. He leaves a family.—Watertown Chronicle.

☞ Daniel Shaw, Esq., formerly of this city, and more recently editor of the Milwaukee News, has gone to St. Paul, Minnesota, where it is probable he will take up his residence. Wherever he goes his numerous friends here will rejoice in his prosperity.—Albany Journal.

THE HUDSON RIVER.—The ice in the river above Troy has started, and it will soon move.—The ice moved yesterday in front of this city, but we understand that it is a foot thick and solid below Castleton. A little rain and a rise in the river will carry it through.—Albany Argus, Saturday

THE FIRST SHAD.—Eighteen shad were taken Thursday night and Friday morning by the Staten Island fishermen, being the first this season.—Albany Journal, April 5th.

The Late Assault on Reader Smith.

NEW LONDON, March 29, 1856.

Messrs. Editors,

DEAR SIRS:—From a sense of justice to the public, to my husband and to myself, I feel called upon to make a brief statement to the public, and should regard it a favor to have it reach them through the medium of your paper, as I disdain ever again to communicate through the Crescent with its present editor.

The article in the Appleton Crescent of the 5th inst., entitled "BRUTAL ASSAULT" was written by myself, and sent to the office of the Crescent on the morning of the 6th, before leaving with the Doctor for this place, where I arrived that day bringing with me a copy of what I had written. The article appeared in the Crescent, precisely as I sent it, and subsequent information confirms my belief, in the accuracy of the statements.

I found my husband confined to his bed; unable to leave it, or to help himself, in which condition he remained for a week. He is still confined to his room, from a fracture in his jaw and injuries of the head (though fast recovering) at the house, where he was carried in his unconscious state from the woods by his hired man and surveyor. There have been frequent attempts to arrest Robert and E. P. Perry, the assailants, but without success. They had either secreted themselves, or when taken, they have resisted and escaped, until yesterday, one of them was secured, as we learn, and report says Robert has left the State.

Under these trying circumstances, you can judge of my surprise, to see in the Appleton Crescent of the 10th inst., that Mr. Ryan had given place in his columns to an article signed by J. W. Perry, a brother of the criminals, entirely false and slanderous. It alleges that "on the 5th inst., this 'Brutal Assault' was made upon the person of Rev. Reader Smith. On the 6th, his keepers proclaimed him dangerously ill; on the 7th, he was worse; on the 8th, he caused to be circulated a report, that he could not be turned in his bed without vomiting and yet, on that very day, he wrote the article published in your paper." This statement; Mr. Ryan knew to be false, having received the said article on the morning of the 6th, in my hand-writing, which is well known to him.

The article written by J. W. Perry is unworthy of notice. I am not surprised that man, guilty of a capital offence, eluding the officers of justice; and keepers of a rum and gambling house, should attempt some or any false representations to screen themselves from justice if they could find a medium; but, I am surprised, that a man who talks so loudly of Temperance and Religion, should publish what he knew to be false, when he also knew that communication was intended to injure and scandalize my husband, an innocent sufferer, on his bed, unable to defend himself; and to screen criminals from the just demands of the law and to countenance intemperance and encourage immorality in its most dangerous forms; as well as discourage the best advocates for law, order and religion. But, it is to be presumed, a discerning public will be able to judge of the character of the communication and the medium through which it comes.

ELIZA K. SMITH.

Republican League—Washington County.

A meeting of the Republicans of several of the towns of Washington County, was held at the Court House in the village of West Bend, on Saturday the 5th of April 1856, at two o'clock P. M.

The meeting was called to order by L. F. Frisby Esq. And on motion, J. E. Young Esq., was chosen chairman, and J. N. Frisby, secretary of said meeting.

The following Resolution was passed by the meeting.

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by this meeting, to draft a constitution, platform and regulations, to submit at a future and adjourned meeting of the Republicans of Washington County, to regulate the permanent organization of a republican league for this County. The following named gentlemen were chosen said committee, L. F. Frisby, Esq., George Ramsey, and Jesse H. Meyers.

On motion the following named gentlemen were chosen a committee, to call a meeting of the Republicans of this county at some proper time and place, to adopt the constitution and regulations of a Republican league in this county, to wit, Silas Wheeler, James Rolfe and William Smith.

L. F. Frisby, Esq., being called upon addressed the meeting.

On motion, the following named gentlemen were appointed a Committee to report suitable resolutions to be submit ed to the meeting. L. F. Frisby, Esq., Silas Wheeler, and William Reynolds, who reported the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted by the meeting:

Resolved That, as citizens of the free State of Wisconsin, we hail the recent termination of the Gubernatorial contest, as a triumph of law, right and justice, over lawlessness, fraud and unparalleled political corruption.

Resolved, That the firm and dignified course pursued by the Judges of the Supreme Court during the pendency of the case of the State, on the relation of Coles Bashford vs. William A. Barstow, was such as all good citizens will admire and commend, and that through them the right of the people to elect their own rulers, under the Constitution, has been vindicated, corruption and fraud in high places rebuked, and a base usurper hurled into political oblivion.

Resolved, That His Excellency Coles Bashford and his eminent counsel, are entitled to our warmest thanks, for the able and vigilant manner in which they prosecuted the rights of the people and relator, in the aforementioned cause; and that we fully concur in the positions by them taken, and so ably sustained by the Supreme Court.

Resolved, That the decision in the Gubernatorial contest should not be claimed as a victory of any party or set of men, but as a vindication of the rights of the people, under the Constitution, to have their will heeded through the medium of the ballot box, notwithstanding a fraudulent Board of Canvassers.

On motion, ordered that the proceedings of this meeting be published in the "Milwaukee Sentinel" and "Free Democrat"

On motion the meeting adjourned sine die

THE DIFFERENCE.—The Sheboygan Republikaner, (German) in speaking of the triumph of justice in the late Gubernatorial contest, and the threats of resistance to the Judgment of the Supreme Court, says:

"Such a matter in a North American Free State, forms excellent material for a one-act Comedy, that is played out in a few days. In Europe it would have become a five-act Drama with endless prologues and epilogues. Armies of hundreds of thousands would have marched against each other, and government loans been made to the extent of millions. Thus the most expensive Republic is nevertheless always cheaper than the cheapest Monarchy."

DESTRUCTIVE CONFLAGRATION—SEVERAL HORSES AND CATTLE BURNED TO DEATH.—A correspondent writes us from Black Hawk, in the town of Alto, in this county, that on Friday morning, just before day-break, the barn of Mr. S. P. Soule (a brother of Mr. Soule of this city,) was discovered to be on fire, and was burned to the ground with the contents, which consisted of two horses, four oxen, two cows, two calves, several hundred bushels of wheat and oats and a few tons of hay. The property destroyed is estimated to have been worth $1600,00, on which there was no insurance.—Fond du Lac Union, April 8th.

ANOTHER NEW SAW MILL.—Messrs. Sherwood, Pierce, Chandler and Smith, have to day purchased of the Hon. John B. Macy, a tract of land located on the east side of the river, at the head of Merrill Street, in the Forth Ward, on which they propose to elect an extensive Steam Saw Mill. It is the intention of these gentlemen to build immediately, one of the best and large-st saw mills in this section of the State, and to have it in running order by the 1st of July. They have already contracted for a forty horse power Engine, and the boilers, all of which are to be built in this city, the engine by Messrs. Wilbor, Peacock & Co., and the boilers by Messrs. Peirron & Breach, who have just established a boiler manufactory here.—Fond du Lac Union.

NAVIGATION OPEN.—The Steamer Pamela commenced her regular trips this afternoon between this city and Pondora.—Toledo Blade, Friday.

Politics in Ozaukee.

OZAUKEE, April 8, 1856.

Messrs. Editors:

In the Sentinel of Saturday your reporter for this Section, it seems, speaks for the democracy. The fact of his being a radical Republican has induced me to forward you a few lines to correct the statements made by "G."

Caucuses were called, on the Saturday previous to Town Meeting day, to nominate candidates for Town Officers. The Democratic caucus was called at the Arcade Hall; the Republicans at the Union House. The feeling manifested at our election a year ago seemed likely to be revived, and to avoid this result both Caucuses united, made up a union ticket and elected it with hardly any opposition. This is, in brief, the sum and substance of anti-Barstow demonstration alluded to by "G."

With respect to Mr. Beger's reception by his constituents, the democrats, I have only to say that tho' two or three Republicans refused him the right hand of fellowship, his constituents gave him a hearty welcome and approved of his course the past winter, in every instance. The Musical Society of this village complimented him with a serenade on the evening of his return. The communication of "G." was read with considerable surprise, until its source was ascertained.

Yours, G.

EMIGRATION.—No Spring has witnessed so early and so strong a tide of travel setting Westward as the Spring of '56. "They come by Thousands," said an agent of the Southern Michigan Railroad the other day as he pointed to a heavy train alive with "settlers." And so they do.—There was on Friday and Saturday of last week upon this road forty-three coaches taken up chiefly with Eastern emigrants, making for or seeking Western homes.

A glance at them will satisfy anybody over as to their "harmony" and character—they are of the best stuff of the sea-board, and will build or help to build up States and cities, on a sure basis.—The West is beginning to be understood all over the East.—Chicago Tribune.

NEW YORK MONEY MARKET.—The Evening Post of Saturday, April 5th, says the demand for money is active, with great ease of supply. Money rates are steady at 6 to 7 ₰ cent. for call loans; at 6 to 7 for the discount of first class short dated paper, and 7 to 8 for that of second. The demand for sterling exchange has been slack for the Havre and Southampton steamer. The principal business was at 109¾@109⅝ for sterling, and 5.18¾@5.20¾ francs. The supply of bills is good. We have been informed that the new loan combined ease of the money market, enabling them to get their long dated bills received, discounted, combined with the stringency of the money markets in Europe, has led to a general anticipation of payments for the importation this year. Accounts have been settled up with our European creditors to an unusual extent. If this is so, the benefit will be felt greatly in the fall season, when money usually becomes tighter here.

The money market, both actually and prospectively, is favorable. The tendencies are rather to increased ease, after the heavy payments of this month are over.

LAKE ERIE.—The Toledo Blade, of Monday last, says the ice has all disappeared from the river and bay, and no ice can be seen with the naked eye on that end of the Lake.

Buffalo, Dunkirk, Cleveland and the other ports, on the Southern and Eastern shores of Lake Erie are still icebound. Detroit, too, is blockaded, as yet.

TWO VESSELS ASHORE.—Captain GOODRICH, of the steamer Huron, which arrived from Chicago last night, reported having seen two vessels ashore, on his way up, one a black sloop, about three miles this side of Chicago, and the other a topsail schooner, loaded, about five miles south of Waukegan. They must have gone ashore during the blow on Wednesday night.

Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia and Piles.

PHILADELPHIA, March 1, 1855.

DR. C. M. JACKSON—DEAR SIR:—For the past two years I have been severely afflicted with the Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia and Piles, suffering constantly the pains and inconvenience attendant upon such complaints, without energy, being scarcely able to attend to my business. I used a great deal of medicine, with no apparent change, until I used your "Hoofland German Bitters." They have entirely cured me. I am now entirely free from pain and ache of any kind, and feel like a new man in every respect, and unhesitatingly recommend your Bitters to all invalids.

Yours, respectfully,

☞ AS A SPRING AND SUMMER MEDICINE, Carter's Spanish Mixture stands pre-eminent above all others. Its sanguinary efficacious action on the blood; its strengthening and vivifying qualities; its tonic action on the Liver; its tendency to drive all humors to the surface, thereby cleansing the system according to Nature's own prescription; its harmless, and at the same time extraordinary good effects, and the number of cures testified to by many of the most respectable citizens of Richmond, Va., and elsewhere, must be conclusive evidence that there is no humbug about it.

The trial of a single bottle will satisfy the most skeptical of its benefits.

POLICE COURT, APRIL 10.

BEFORE CLINTON WALWORTH, POLICE JUSTICE.

The case of the State vs. John F. Kennedy, Dennis Nugent, Michael Cooney, and Edward Kavanaugh, for a assault and battery upon Michael Gerrety, with intent to kill and murder him, was called. The complainant Gerrety, was in Court, but stated he was unable to stay thro' the examination. He exhibited the marks of the inf uman and brutal beating he had received, his face was disfigured very much, and his head cut in several places. A bystander, looking on, remarked, "It was the devils own beating they gav him." "Shure they left him for dead," said another.

The case was adjourned until the 12th day of May, 1856, the sitting of the Grand Jury, to enable that body to act upon it.

The District Attorney appeared for the State, and Mr Butler and S. L. Doran for the defendants

Jacob Muckey, for being drunk, was fined $1. James Rogers, for assault and battery, was tried and found not guilty.

PASSENGERS, &c. AT THE LAKE SHORE DEPOT — If any person having leisure time will visit the Depot or landing place of the passengers at the terminus of the Lake Shore Rail Road in the Fifth Ward of this City, he will be enabled to form some idea of what Badlam would be when broke loose. Of all places for passengers to land, and to run the risk of getting their baggage; of being hustled by Runners, swindled by Hack Drivers and Draymen, for women to be pulled about by those seeking custom for different taverns, &c., the Lake Shore Depot beats any place we have ever seen. We think some different plan might be adopted by the Rail Road Company, and certainly by the Police might be more efficient. The noise, the turmoil, at every arrival of the cars is shameful, and ought to be stopped; it exists at no other Depot.

PLUNDERING UNCLE SAM OF HIS GRAVEL.—A large hole has been made in the bank of gravel upon the lot purchased by the U. S. Government on the corner of Wisconsin and Milwaukee Streets by people carting off the gravel which is of a superior kind. Yesterday some drays were found carting it off and the carmen immediately ordered to stop by the U. S. Marshall, or they would be arrested; the men stopped and the government will probably not lose any more gravel.

THE REIGN OF ART.—In this wonderful age, Art lays her master touches on almost every thing. The ceiling, over us and, the carpets we tread on, are hallowed by Art Art winds the railway through the mountains and makes her machines of wood and iron, to act as if with knowledge and annihilates space with lightning tamed down to the tutelage of a boy. Nothing is too lofty for her touch and nothing too humble. A new proof of this old conviction, has just fallen under our notice, in the shape of a CATHARTIC PILL, from the Laboratory of that world renowned Chemist Dr. J. C. AYER.

If we understand the subject, he has carried that article to the farthest perfection of which it is capable. Instead of employing Drugs in its composition, as we have always thought the necessary and only way, he has with consummate skil extracted the virtues of the medicine to be employed and combined them alone in their purity together The composition is then mixed and rolled by machinery and steam power into a spheroid pill which is wrapped in an envelope of gelatine, for protection from the effects of weather or time, and then thickly coated with sugar, to serve as its passport over the palate. Notwithstanding all this labored perfection they are offered to the Public at less than one cent each. However humble the department, we think this may be safely characterised as the consummation of Art in its line.—Morning News, Balt. dlt.

PARLOR OR SALOON PISTOLS!

JUST RECEIVED a small assortment of the above named Pistols, together with the cap and ball for the same. These pistols are not only serviceable as a weapon of defence, but are admirably adapted for target exercise.

The cap, ball and powder are all together, and the Pistol can be charged in the same space of time required to place a cap on an ordinary Plate There is but little smoke or noise attending the discharge, at the same time the ball is thrown with sufficient force to do great execution. As this style of Pistol is only made with two sizes of bore, no difficulty will be experienced in procuring the caps to fit them.

We have also on hand a large stock of Colt's, Allen's, Warner's, Robbins & Lawrence's, Whitney's and other styles of revolvers and pistols of cheaper grades, all of which will be sold low. Call and examine our assortment.

SIX O'CLOCK REPORT.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, April 9.

A man named Wells was convicted of murder in this city, and sentenced to be hanged. He was pardoned by President Fillmore, with the condition that he should be imprisoned for life, a year ago an application was made to the city court for his discharge, under a writ of habeas corpus. The prisoner's counsel assumed the broad ground that the pardon was absolute, and the condition void. The court refused the application, and remanded Wells to prison.

The case came before the Supreme Court, on appeal. Justice Curtis delivered an opinion this A. M., sustaining the decision of the inferior Court, and saying that the condition of the pardon was not exercise of power, but a substitution of one punishment for another, and arguing that the pardoning power must be understood as it existed in England, and these colonies previous to the formation of the constitution.

Justice Curtis and Campbell concurring, were understood as assuming that writs of error in criminal cases not being permissible to the Supreme Court. It has no juriadiction in the premises and therefore the case should be dismissed.

Justice McLean dissenting, argued that it was the exercise of a new power.

The Senate having called for additional information on Kansas affairs, and the House for further intelligence on the Central American question. The President sent to each a message, saying, there is nothing new in the State Department regarding these subjects.

Gov Broome, of Florida, had called upon the various authorities, regarding the protection of the frontiers of the State.

NEW YORK, April 10.

Late advices from Hayti mention the arrival as Port au Prince of four English and two French men-of-war, lately composing part of the Baltic fleet. Other war vessels were expected, and it is said from 1,000 to 1,400 French troops had landed at Guadaloupe. Much interest is excited by their movements.

WASHINGTON, April 10.

House discussed the resolution of the committee on elections, declaring P. H. Rouke elected from the 9th Congressional District, Illinois.

SENATE resumed the consideration of the motion to print the memorial of the members of the Free State Legislature of Kansas.

Mr. Mason, of Virginia, opposed the proposition, saying that it emanated from men who are in rebellion against the laws of their country.

Mr. Seward regarded it as a comparatively unimportant question, whether the memorial be printed or not, as he had already seen it in journals circulating many thousand copies. It would therefore be read by the world at any rate. He thought printing would be proper.

Mr. Butler, of South Carolina re-stated his former objection to the motion.

Peace with the Indians.

ST. LOUIS, April 10.

Howard and Sherman, members of the Kansas Committee, and Gov. Reeder, arrived yesterday, en route for Kansas.

Private despatches from the Plains state that Gen. Harney has met representative of Indians in Sioux country, with the exception of two tribes, and that definite terms of peace have been agreed upon between the parties.

The Connecticut Election.

NEW YORK, April 10.

Returns received from every town in Connecticut but one, show the Governor's vote to be 66,000—the largest ever cast in the State. Ingham, Dem., lacks 1554 votes, of an election by the people. The American State ticket will be elected by the Legislature on joint ballot.

The New Jersey Republicans.

NEW YORK, April 10.

A Republican mass meeting of the people of New Jersey was held at Newark yesterday. Its object was to effect a permanent State organization. The attendance was large. An address and a series of resolutions were adopted unanimously. A convention for the election of delegates to the Philadelphia convention is called to meet at Trenton, May 22d.

Senator Wade of Ohio, spoke nearly two hours. Gen. Nye, (M. C. from N. Y.) and Col. M. W. Delahay, of Kansas, also spoke.

"The work can scarcely fail of interesting deeply the American reader. Lady Mary lived and wrote in the first half of the eighteenth century, when our land was a component portion of the British empire, and consequently her opinions and influence were of high importance. Her Letters will be found valuable as well as amusing, aiding the students of history to catch the manners and opinions of English society in high life—then the dominant power of the realm, at the time Benjamin Franklin and his co-patriots in this western world were working out the problem of American independence and popular sovereignty."

F. M. LANE'S

PERMANENT GLOSS PAINT.

Important Improvement in Painting!

A PERMANENT GLOSS PAINT for interior Work has long been a desideratum. All paints prepared from Linseed Oil, will rapidly turn from the lightest and most opposite tints to the yellow color of the oil itself; the change being the more rapid as the paint is exposed from the full light of day.

The subscriber, after a sufficiently long experience in its use, can recommend it as the only Gloss Paint in which this important defect is effectually remedied. This beautiful paint can be applied of any color, from the purest white, resembling enamel or porcelain, to all the different varieties of tints, suitable for private dwellings, Churches, Hotels, &c., whilst its brilliancy and richness of surface it surpasses all other paints; it possesses superior advantages in retaining permanently even the most delicate colors with which it is combined.

Also, Plain and Ornamental Painting, decoration of Private Dwellings, Churches, &c., Sign and Fancy Painting.
